        i. The services would provide patrol, monitoring of Flock cameras, house-sitting, and speaking at meetings as needed.
        ii. For this service, the City of Druid Hills would pay a percentage of our budget based on property evaluation. It would cost roughly $65,000 a year.
        iii. To cover this patrol cost, property taxes would have to be raised, or an assessment given to residents.
